

IMAT3451 FINAL YEAR PROJECT - Global Checklist

The University requires all undergraduate final year projects students to undertake a global review of their project. Here is an International Impact Checklist for you to complete, which can be done in consultation with the project supervisor.

Student Name

Naïm Maoun

Programme

Computer Security BSc (Hons)

Project Title

"Securing Home Networks"

Please indicate which of these possible attributes is addressed by your undertaking of this project.

Possible Global Experience	Addressed by Project
Ability to work collaboratively: teams from a range of backgrounds and countries
Excellent communication skills with a sensitivity to speaking with and listening to non-native English speakers	✓
An ability to embrace multiple perspectives and challenge thinking in a range of cultural context
A capacity to develop new skills and behaviours according to role requirements
An ability to negotiate and influence clients across the globe from different cultures
An ability to form professional, global networks
An openness to/respect of a range of perspectives from around the world
Multi-cultural learning agility (i.e. able to learn in any culture or environment)

Brief description of how the ticked attributes have been addressed:

The application will be written in English, with non-technical words in order to help users of all age and origin to secure their home network. There will be a glossary included in the app in order to help the users in better understanding the instructions given by the application.

Signature of student _____ Date _____

Signature of supervisor _____ Date _____